Lake Country Art Gallery Unveils its first Exhibition of 2024 with Artists Jen Dyck and Steve Mennie.

The Lake Country Art Gallery is thrilled to announce its first exhibition of the year, "Bats in the Belfry: the Origins of Bat Shit Crazy," featuring the artwork of accomplished artists Jen Dyck and Steve Mennie. This exhibition, encompassing painting, drawing, and collage, promises to take visitors on a thought-provoking journey exploring various themes and observations reflective of our contemporary times.

Exhibition Details:

- Exhibition Title: Bats in the Belfry: the Origins of Bat Shit Crazy
- Artists: Jen Dyck and Steve Mennie
- Dates: January 13 to March 10, 2024
- Opening Reception: Saturday, January 13, 2024, from 1 to 3 pm

Combining Dyck and Mennie unveils a unique perspective on the world. Dyck, known for her collage works, and Mennie, recognized for his drawings and paintings, present an exhibition that delves into the intricacies of contemporary existence.

The Lake Country Art Gallery invites artists, art enthusiasts, the curious, and the extended community to join us for the Opening Reception on Saturday, January 13, from 1 to 3 pm. Opening receptions will allow attendees to meet the artists, engage in conversations, and gain a deeper understanding of the exhibition.

Don't miss the chance to see "Bats in the Belfry: the Origins of Bat Shit Crazy." The exhibition will run from January 13 to March 10.
