Job Posting

Position Overview

The H.R. MacMillan Space Centre is seeking a dynamic individual who will play a key role in managing, reporting, and directing specific marketing campaigns with a focus on online channels. We are looking for someone with a passion for storytelling and generating content for our social media channels. This position will provide support and creative coordination for the marketing and sales, guest services and learning services teams. The teams require a candidate that is familiar with digital experiences, demonstrates excellent communication proficiency and the ability to work across functional teams and gain buy-in from multiple stakeholders.

This work includes design, writing or editing material for use in activity and program brochures, calendars, newsletters, annual reports, news releases, websites, online channels, and advertising. In addition, this position supports the coordination of special events as required including developing promotional direction, arranging for catering, performers, and facilities. Of importance is the ability to maintain and establish close liaisons and contacts with the press, radio and TV media to publicize events and shows; disseminate and distribute promotional material and to contact advertising representatives and place print advertisements. The marketing and communications coordinator will attend meetings with other cultural organizations in order to coordinate the production of joint events, promotional materials or campaigns. Considerable independence of action and judgement is exercised in the creative aspects of the work, while written copy is checked for factual accuracy by appropriate staff. Monitoring expenditures, preparing and maintaining records and related materials and preparing budget estimates are included in duties.

This is a Part-time (28 day/week), on-site staff position within the Marketing department of the HR MacMillan Space Centre, with day-to-day reporting to the Director of Marketing and Community Engagement. The work is performed under general supervision and in accord with established policies and procedures. Work performance is evaluated by a superior in terms of the quality of services rendered to the public.
